

The 24 Protections
That Make American Government the Best

When agitators announce that they propose to improve the government under which we live it might be well for cautious Americans to remember the fable about the dog who already had a bone in his mouth but while crossing a log over a stream saw in the water another dog with another bone, opened his mouth to get the second bone — and so lost what he already had.

Maybe a statistical report on what we Americans already have would be a boring affair, but the sheer magnitude of facts should tell us that the judgment of the rest of the world — that ours is the freest and best government in all history — is correct. I found a detailed report in an editorial from Tennessee. Here is what Americans already have in their government:

WHAT MORE COULD BE ADDED?
(The Nashville Banner)

Frequently left-wing organizations in this country seeking to change the form of our government adopt "Civil Liberties" as their slogan. We wonder if such groups and individuals are as ignorant as they appear to be of the liberties which Americans already are guaranteed under the Constitution.

These liberties first came to be established here through the founders — fathers who declared in the Declaration of Independence that, "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

As outlined by the Friends of the Public Schools of America, about 24 such rights are guaranteed each individual in the Constitution. They may be summarized as follows:

1. Right of the writ of habeas corpus.
  2. Protection against the passage of bills of attainder and ex post facto laws.
  3. Equality before the law by forbidding the creation of a titled class by prohibiting the Federal government from granting titles of nobility.
  4. Right to speedy public trial in case of accusation of crime before an impartial jury at the place of commission of the crime.
  5. Freedom of religion, press, speech, assembly, and petition.
  6. Right to keep and bear arms for the national defense.
  7. Protection against the unlawful quartering of troops.
  8. Right to grand jury indictment before trial for a crime, and to be confronted with witnesses, and to have the compulsory process to obtain witnesses and the assistance of counsel to establish innocence.
  9. Protection against unreasonable searches and seizures.
  10. Protection against self-incrimination in any trial or the giving of testimony.
  11. Protection against being twice placed in jeopardy of life or limb for a single crime.
  12. Protection against cruel and unusual punishments and excessive bail.
  13. Right to just compensation for any property taken for public use.
  14. Right to trial by jury in civil case.
  15. Protection against being deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.
  16. Protection against the impairment of the obligations of contracts by the states.
  17. Equal protection of the laws.
  18. Guarantee of a republican form of government in the state in which a citizen resides.
  19. Protection from slavery and involuntary servitude except as punishment for crime.
  20. Protection from abridgment by the states of the privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States.
  21. Right to hold public office under the United States if the citizen meets the statutory and constitutional qualifications.
  22. Right to freedom of entrance to and exit from a state.
  23. Protection from domestic violence and foreign invasion.
  24. Protection from the abridgment of the right to vote by a state on account of race or sex.
- Under no other form of government in the world today do individual civil liberties even come close to matching these.

In addition to Trieste they were to take up their new overture to Continued on Page Two

Rails Agree to Give Aid Drouth States

CHICAGO, (UP) — Western railroads have agreed to give aid in the form of reduced freight rates to the drought-stricken livestock industry of the Southwest.

The Western roads yesterday agreed to reduce freight rates 50 per cent on hay shipped from Western territory to the drought areas of Missouri and other southwestern states. The reduction takes effect tomorrow.

They also granted an extension until Nov. 16 of the 50 per cent reduction on livestock feed from Western territory to the drought area. The reduction went into effect last July 1.

The Association of Western Railroads said it had taken the action at the "urgent request" of agricultural Secretary Ezra T. Benson and officials of the drought states.

The association said it expects the principal movement of hay to the southwest will be from South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin where surpluses are reported.

It said rate reductions since July 1 on traffic moved to the drought area amounted to a revenue total of $1-million.

Actually the Many Boners on TV Programs Win Friends If the Program Is a Good One

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — When the ordinary man commits a conversational error in his living room, he doesn't worry much about it. No body may even notice it except his kindly old mother-in-law and if she is eating free who is she to holler?

But when a television performer makes a mistake he feels sure it will be seen in 10,000,000 living rooms and at least 9,000,000 gleeful people will write in letters pointing it out.

That is why when you shake hands with some TV stars you discover they have very short hands with some TV stars you discover they have very short fingers. Their fingers didn't grow that way. They've just been gnawed down.

Three Fired at Industrial School

PINE BLUFF, (AP) — Felix Ryals, superintendent of the Arkansas Boys Industrial School, said today that Assistant Supt. B. E. Turner and three other employees were dismissed yesterday.

The others are Mrs. Turner, who was in charge of the school's clothing and sewing room; Mrs. Evert Williams, the cafeteria operator; and Mrs. Violet Jones, laundry operator.

Mrs. Williams' husband, also a school employee, was retained.

Ryals called Turner's severance "a sort of half and half affair—half resignation and half dismissal."

He didn't give any reason, and Turner made no comment.

Ryals said the others were dismissed partly for economy reasons and partly because of what he said was his policy of trying to get properly trained personnel for various school jobs.

Turner was assistant superintendent under former Supt. H. P. Hargis. He was retained when the school's Board of Control replaced Hargis with Ryals last spring.

None of the dismissed employees has been replaced, Ryals said.

Mrs. Milburn Lee, secretary at the school, resigned Sept. 15 and has been succeeded by Miss Louise Word of Pine Bluff.

Mrs. Lee said she was "virtually forced" to quit.

Jury to Rule on Perjury of Stephenson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell said today a federal grand jury will be asked to determine whether Warren L. Stephenson, former local Republican leader, committed perjury in his testimony at a House investigation of "four percenters."

Stephenson acknowledged at the hearing that he sought a four per cent fee for seeking more government business for a California munitions firm.

There were apparent conflicts in some of his testimony and the published record of the closed door hearings disclosed that Rep. Hardy (D-Va.) told Stephenson "You are one of the biggest liars I have ever listened to."

Stephenson, who came here from Los Angeles in 1944, was an officeholder in several District of Columbia Republican organizations at the time of the disclosures. He was immediately dropped from these groups.

Last fall, Stephenson had been secretary of a special committee which made arrangements for local celebrations in connection with President Eisenhower's inauguration. In that capacity, he held a White House pass for several months. The White House said the pass was taken up last June 15.

It was in June that the House investigating committee questioned Stephenson behind closed doors. However, the record of the hearing was not made public until Sept. 9.

This disclosed that Stephenson acknowledged he used supposedly secret information about Navy plans for rocket launchers in soliciting to get a California firm to retain him at $2,000 a month or a fee of 4 per cent on business obtained from the Navy.

Anti-Reds Again Threaten to Flee Compounds

PANMUNJOM, (AP) — Thousands of impassioned North Korean prisoners threatened to break out of compounds in the Korean neutral zone today, forcing cancellation of the second day of Red attempts to woo them back to Communism.

The Indian custodian command said it withdrew a battalion preparing to force 500 POWs to hear Red interviewers after 2,000 massed North Koreans armed with clubs got set to break out of their compounds at the first sign of violence.

Menaced by hordes of massed North Koreans in adjoining compounds, an Indian custodian battalion was assigned to force 500 POWs to hear Red interviewers was withdrawn.

The Indian command said angry prisoners were set to break out of three nearby enclosures — holding up to 750 North Koreans — at the first show of force by Indians, who were armed with rifles and tear gas.

"Korean prisoners in all compounds of enclosure G were drawn up in neat rows with the front rank of men stripped to the waist and ready with clubs to scale or break through the barred wire fencing on signal," the Indian command said.

"In another compound, the fence poles were being loosened to crash through the wire fencing," the statement added.

The National Nations Repatriation Commission (NNRC) called off Friday's scheduled explanations to 1,000 North Koreans after Maj. Gen. S. P. D. Thoral, the Indian commander, reported that to use force in such an explosive situation "would undoubtedly result in heavy casualties."

Meanwhile, some official U. N. observers indicated they would protest if the prisoners were dragged forcibly before Red explainers.

For the time being, the Indians gave up trying to budge the frenzied North Koreans from their stockades. The NNRC announced that in lead of North Koreans, 1,000 Chinese would be interviewed Saturday.

Thursday, the Indian command congratulated its troops on winning a battle of wills after 500 angry Chinese were persuaded to attend Red explanations. But Friday the battle went to the prisoners, North Koreans this time.

Reshuffling of Excise Tax Is Studied

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, (UP) — House Majority Leader Charles A. Halleck has proposed to President Eisenhower a reshuffling of federal excise taxes that would produce a net gain in revenue from that source in the next fiscal year.

The taxes are those levied on specific goods and services, such as gasoline, cigarettes, automobiles and other things.

Halleck, an Indiana Republican, introduced the legislation today. He said Mr. Eisenhower this week before the President set off on a five state speaking tour which has developed considerable political urgency because of tax, budget and farm problems.

In addition to offering his proposals for broadening the excise tax base, Halleck assured the President that Congress will vote next session to maintain the 52 per cent regular corporation tax rate fixed two years ago to help finance the Korean War.

The corporate rate is scheduled to drop back to its pre-Korean level of 47 per cent next April 2 unless Congress acts. Mr. Eisenhower already has asked that the present rate be maintained. There has been considerable talk in Congress of a compromise, fixing the rate at 50 per cent.

The house leader said there should be some tax relief for industries overburdened by existing excise rates. Specifically, he mentioned the movie industry.

Congress enacted a bill last session to repeal the 20 per cent tax on movie admissions, but Mr. Eisenhower vetoed it, explaining that he disapproved of piecemeal revision of the excise structure.

Except for such industries as moving pictures where many persons believe the existing rates are unjust, Halleck would maintain present excise taxation and add selectively to the list. He was against a general excise or manufacturers sales tax.

Ike Promises New Program With Supports

By ED CREAGH
KANSAS CITY, (AP) — President Eisenhower says his administration, who farm policies have been frequently criticized, is almost ready to set forth a new program for agriculture. It will retain price supports.

"We will have that program ready for the consideration of Congress early next year," he said last night. "After that, of course, begin the exhaustive committee hearings and debate in the Congress."

"The end result will be as sound and as carefully thought out as a farm program as practical experience, expert knowledge and good judgment can devise."

The President spoke before the silver anniversary convention of the Future Farmers of America, a national farm boy organization.

Turning to price supports, he declared: "All of us know that the price support principle must be part of any future farm program."

Eisenhower had a breakfast meeting scheduled today with governors of 12 drought-battered states before taking off for a home town visit to Abilene, Kan., next stop on his current five-day speaking tour which will take him to New Orleans, Texas and the north.

Says Commies Have Hold in Guatemala

MILWAUKEE, (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said today "communism has established a strong beachhead in Guatemala" and has taken root to "considerable extent" elsewhere in Latin America.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in an address prepared for a luncheon meeting of the City Club here, said one way to assure the continued security of the United States is to make sure "that we do not overlook our own back yard, nor our hemisphere."

He said a foreign relations subcommittee will shortly issue a study of the worldwide strength of the Communist party, country by country.

"This study," he continued, "will indicate the considerable extent to which communism has unfortunately taken root practically right under our own noses in this hemisphere."

He spoke of a Communist "beachhead" in Guatemala, a Central American country close to the Panama Canal, and "serious developments" in British Guiana, where the British government moved swiftly recently to oust officials it accused of Communist scheming.

Hope Women at Regional Conference

The Shamrock Hotel, Houston, Texas, was the scene of an eight-state regional conference which ended Sunday, October 11. The last day of the meeting, of which over 1,000 women representing Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico and Colorado, opened National Business Women's Week with a bang.

This meeting drew top business women, not only from the South Central region, but from other parts of the United States as well.

Among all these and hundreds of other distinguished women, were Hope club representatives, Miss Rosa Harrie, president, Mrs. Opal Horvay, treasurer, Mrs. Naomi Patterson, program coordinator, and Mrs. Belle Midglet, delegate.

The delegates brought back with them many ideas for the furtherment of women in the word of business and politics.

These delegates were toured and entertained in true Texas fashion and spent four days absorbing ways and means of improving working conditions of women all over the world.

At the final business session, Saturday, the delegates voted to support the "Equal Rights" bill without the Hayden rider and to ask the National Federation for 10,000 dollars for the passage of the bill in Congress.

Rockefeller Building Petit Jean Pipeline

By WILLIAM W. HUGHES
LITTLE ROCK, (UP) — Winthrop Rockefeller, who is reported ready to make the biggest divorce settlement in history, went out in a worn slinky shirt and blue jeans today to supervise the construction of a water pipeline.

He is building the pipeline up a 1,000 foot precipice to supply water for his new $1,000,000 estate on arid Petit Jean mountain, about 80 miles northwest of Little Rock.

Rockefeller, 41-year-old heir of an oil fortune, will say only "no comment" to reports from Chicago that he is ready to give his "Cinderella bride," Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller, $5,500,000 in a divorce settlement.

His Little Rock attorney, Edwin E. Dunaway, said there would be no comment "now or in the future."

Rockefeller moved to Arkansas several months ago and established a voting residence by paying $5 poll tax. He maintains a suite in the Sam Peck Hotel and keeps tab on his business interests in a small office in a bank.

U. S. Assistance Pledge Pleases the President

By LARRY HALL
KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Governors of drought stricken states presented a federal-state share-to-cost program to President Eisenhower today and got an agreement for federal assistance in feeding starving cattle.

Gov. Don Thornton of Colorado, chairman of the governors, drought conference here, said the president, who breakfasted with the governors, was pleased with the states' action.

Thornton quoted the President as saying their share-to-cost program fitted in with his views that the best government is government on the local level.

In a speech to the Future Farmers of America last night he said, "My own conviction is that the principle of partnership between the federal government and the state governments should govern our approach to such emergency problems. Only in this way can we gain the advantages of local knowledge, efficiency and incentive on the one hand, and of the wider federal resources on the other."

The President shared a hearty country-style breakfast with the 12 governors, then took off for a quick trip to his boyhood home in Abilene, Kansas.

Thornton said the President had assured them no state would be penalized in the drought relief program if it could not put up any state funds. Agriculture Secretary Benson, also here for the conference, confirmed that.

Denson said the funds to share the cost of transporting hay would be allocated on the basis of the number of cattle in drought disaster areas.

The Department of Agriculture will pay up to one half of the cost of transporting hay into the drought areas.

Grave Reveals Nothing New in Kidnaping

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — The lime-filled grave of kidnap victim Bobby Greenleaf was re-opened today, but officers found nothing to indicate another body had been buried there.

John Downs, prosecuting attorney of Buchanan County, directed that the grave be re-opened, on the chance that they might find the body of Thomas Marsh, an ex-convict first turned by one of the kidnapers as the slayer of the Greenleaf boy in the $500,000 kidnaping.

Carl Austin Hall, 34, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Hoady, 40, have confessed they committed the crime, and buried the boy's body in the yard of the woman's home at St. Joseph, 80 miles northwest of here.

Officers uncovered the grave and dug down three feet farther, but found only hard clay.

Downs had ordered the action "just on an off-chance" another body might be found.

Marsh, later absolved by Hall and Mrs. Hoady, has not been located.

Officials have speculated that the missing Marsh, an ex-convict, also had been killed.

Held in the Jackson County Jail here with Hall is Mrs. Bonnie Brown Hoady, who admitted luring Bobby from his school Sept. 23 and turning him over to Hall.

The grave is in the yard of her St. Joseph, Mo. home. Downs said the reopening was merely a double check and that he believed the grave had been dug deep enough at the time Bobby's body was covered to rule out the possibility of anything else being buried there.

Prime Minister Churchill was expected to reject through Eden his proposal for the West's top leaders to meet with Soviet Premier Malenkov. Dulles was expected to look on this British idea with a wary eye.

Dulles last night emphasized his view that the way to peace is through "continuing painstaking efforts to deal concretely with actual complicated situations which could become the starting points of war."

The current meeting, he said, "is not at all that continuing process."

Blum arriving several hours later from Paris also said: "We mustn't expect any spectacular results from this meeting."

Both men — and informants close to them confirmed this — obviously were more intent on specific ways of doubling brush fires around the world than upon making any dramatic new gesture to the Kremlin.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia won't let the Big Three last night that she will tolerate no decision on disputed Trieste unless the Soviets have a hand in it.

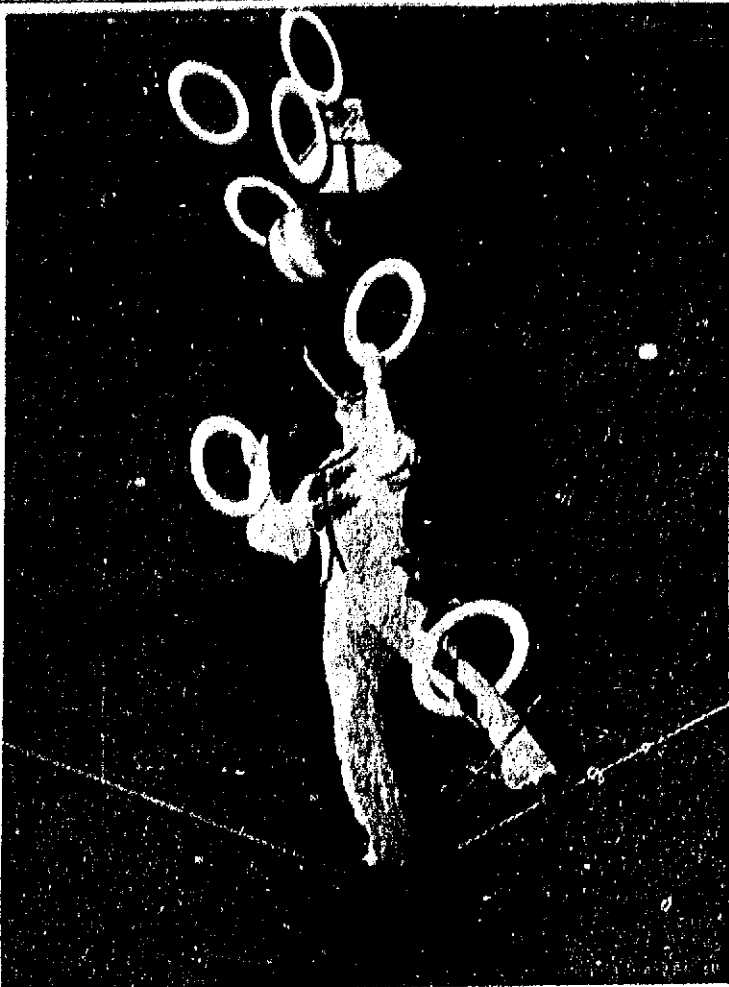

Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky issued the challenge before the session of the U. N. Security Council deliberating a Russian request that the council try again to set up an international administration for both sides of the Adriatic territory and give it independence.

The warning obviously was aimed at the American, British and French foreign ministers meeting in London today with the explosive Trieste issue high on their agenda.

The Big Three meeting set a restful on all other arenas of the Trieste dispute. The council postponed further discussion of the issue until Tuesday afternoon, despite Russian objections. In Belgrade and Trieste city, scenes of demonstrations and violence in the past week, authorities kept a close watch to prevent trouble.

Vishinsky declared his government would not countenance any "unilateral" action on Trieste except by the United States, Britain, Italy and Yugoslavia.

News Briefs

GOULD, (UP) — Dumas City Marshall Dayton Allison was free of blame today in the fatal shooting of a Negro peace officer in a case of "mistaken identity."

Congressman Dr. E. M. Gardner absolved Allison of blame for the death of Willie J. Westcott, 35, night watchman here, Westcott was shot to death Wednesday night on Highway 65 while enroute to work.

Allison told local officers he was patrolling Highway 65 looking for a Negro suspect when he spotted Westcott, whom he didn't know. Walking along the road. He said he called to Westcott to stop and then later came towards him with a drawn pistol. Allison said he fired once, killing Westcott instantly.

Prosecutor Fat H. Mullis said an examination of Westcott's gun disclosed that two cartridges had been "snapped" but not fired. Mullis said no charges would be filed.

drought seared areas of $10 a ton whichever is smaller.

The states, in turn, will be responsible for buying and distributing the hay to farmers and ranchers.

Since western railroads extended a 50 per cent cut on hay and feed rates yesterday for another 30 days, that means farmers in the drought areas will get any freight.

Benson agreed to confer with the governors of southern states in an effort to get the same freight rate reduction for that area.

Under the program, Benson said, the Department of Agriculture will maintain-type policies in force last December 31 and issued at least five years earlier. The dividends are in addition to the regular 1953 anniversary payments totaling some $239,400 annually.

Army H. Hamann, regional manager of the Veterans Administration here, said the issue was possible because a trend of mortality and disability experience had released reserves that were being maintained to provide these benefits.

Hamann, regional manager of the Veterans Administration here, said the issue was possible because a trend of mortality and disability experience had released reserves that were being maintained to provide these benefits.

Hamann said there is an estimated 33,000 living World War I veterans in Arkansas although only 3,800 of them hold this particular type of government insurance.

negotiate with the individual states as to their ability to share the freight costs.

The federal money will come from a $10,000,000 emergency fund allocated by the President two weeks ago.

At a news conference after the breakfast, Governor Thornton said it was obvious some states would not be able to contribute as much as others. But, he made it clear that any state funds used would be under the control of the governor.

Benson said the hay would be distributed on this basis. Any farmer or cattleman in a county designated as a drought disaster area, will be eligible if he needs the feed to stay in business and maintain his foundation herd. Operators of commercial feed lots will not be eligible. No farmer will be able to obtain more than a 60-day supply.

The new hay program, Benson said, is in addition to previous distribution of federally owned grain and feed concentrates which has sent 603,379 tons of feed into drought states.

"All of the governors feel it is a step in the right direction," Thornton said.

He suggested 10 million dollars might not be enough to take care of the federal share of the program, but said it would meet immediate needs, and Secretary Benson has agreed to seek other funds when the emergency fund is gone.

At the same time the governors adopted a resolution looking to establishment of a continuing program for disaster relief. They recommended that the executive committee of the Governors' Conference work with a specifically designated committee of the federal government to develop a constructive and continuing program for federal-state cooperation in disaster relief.

Southern railroads will be urged to follow the lead of western lines in extending a freight rate reduction for feed moved to drought areas.

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly of Missouri, who called a special session of the Legislature this week to deal with drought relief, expressed himself as pleased with the program.

He emphasized that under the agreement made today the state will have full power to determine how the money appropriated by

DOROTHY DIX

An Unwed Mother

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 19, the unmarried mother of a baby girl. I knew her father for two years, but since her birth he has never spoken to me, or seen the baby. I still love him, and would give anything to win him back. I see him at least once a week, but he doesn't talk to me.

DORA B.

No Spark of Decency in Him

Answer: I wish I could make you see how grievously you are hurting yourself and your child. The young man obviously has no regard whatever for you or his child, and no intention of shouldering the responsibility he has incurred. By breaking your heart over him, you are wasting time that should be put into creating and building a new life for you and your daughter. It is a low character indeed who treats a girl as you have been treated. Any man with even a spark of decency would marry the mother of his child and try to establish a home for them. You are being foolish to continue your futile hope for reconciliation. Consultation with a family counselor would inform you as to what support you could get from the man, and what legal claims you have against him. Also, you could be advised on how and where to make a fresh start.

I doubt that this man would even need to promise marriage to make you a devoted slave again.

Do realize that a man who would act as he has done isn't worthy of any woman's love, and he is thoroughly undeserving of the sweet child he has fathered. The chances of his marrying you are practically nil. Try to learn from your mistake of the past and look ahead to a decent, self-respecting future, not a hazy succession of affairs with the same man.

Dear Miss Dix: What can be done about a very nice boy who married a sweet girl, then went overseas and has returned completely changed? His manners are rough and his language shocking and disrespectful.

WORRIED MOTHER

Answer: The life led by young men in active service is not always conducive to pretty talk or fairy manners. For some of them to continue their war-acquired habits, once they are home, is not unusual. You ask other readers who have had the same experience to pass on their solutions. I hope some of them will. Don't nag the boy, but let him know that his actions are distressing his family. He'll revert to his former behavior in due time.

Dear Miss Dix: My boy friend and I plan to marry when he finishes school in 3 years. He just does not act as if he really loves me, though. He gets mad at me, for no reason at all, stomps out of the house and says he'll see me sometime. He wants me to take these incidents as a joke, but I can't.

Answer: Try to learn the cause underlying these arguments. Perhaps you say something that irks him, though you may not be aware of it, or perhaps he leaves to avoid saying something he may regret himself. If you can find a reason for his peculiar actions you probably will be able to effect a cure. The boy seems nice enough to warrant a bit of patience.

"I made them for several months back in 1933 in Kansas City," he said. "But so far as I know the only people who ever saw them were television dealers. The public wasn't buying sets then."

He is one of the top-paid men in the field now but he made the real big time only within the last five years. He came up the hard way and that may explain why his shirt size has never changed. He feels his success came as the result of a series of lucky breaks and because of a willingness to do what others didn't want to.

"When I was a kid in Kansas everybody was taking piano lessons," he said. "But my father figures that in business it was more important to be able to talk than to play a piano so he made me take elocution lessons."

Later John got another lucky break. He came to Broadway to become an actor — and couldn't land a job. But he did meet a stagestruck girl from Arkansas — Benah Mae Estes. And after he returned to Kansas City and found work as a reporter he and the girl from Little Rock set up house-keeping on $30 a week.

"The paper decided to put on some radio news broadcasts," said Swage. "Nobody else on the staff wanted the job so I took it — at $4 a week."

Today he makes more than 100 times that. His annual income is in six figures — that golden pasture between $100,000 and $1,000,000.

Swage aired his wares later in Hollywood then came to New York again. In 1941 when the networks televised the national political conventions some of the top radio announcers were afraid to risk their reputations in the new medium. John was very happy to try the gamble and made himself a video star almost overnight.

"That was my luckiest break," he said.

Most successful men have their favorite mottoes. John has two: 1. "Luck is when opportunity and preparation meet."

2. Bernard Baruch's advice to es school in 3 years. He just does not act as if he really loves me, though. He gets mad at me, for no reason at all, stomps out of the house and says he'll see me sometime. He wants me to take these incidents as a joke, but I can't.

edge of Mexico. He also detailed last night, in his broadcast and televised address, what he thinks the federal and state governments should do about this "drought of devastating intensity," as he called it.

DES MOINES (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee came to Iowa — the home state of the chief advocate of a flexible price support plan — to find out today what kind of future farm program its farmers want.

Its findings may provide the key to farm legislation Congress is in committee to enact next year. The lawmakers halted here on the third of a series of four tours they are making to different sections of the country to sample farmer opinion. So far they have found a heavy majority favoring continuance of present high level supports first set up during World War II.

Iowa is the home of President Alan Kline of the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation. For several years Kline has won bureau endorsement of a system of price supports which would maintain high level floors under prices in times of shortages and lower ones in times of surpluses.

At hearings earlier this week a heavy majority of more than 150 farmers and farm leaders appearing before the committee declared they did not want flexible supports.

They urged that present supports at 90 per cent of parity be continued indefinitely. They will expire next year unless Congress extends them.

Because of Farm Bureau strength in Iowa, Chairman Hope (R-Iowa) said today's hearing would be one of the most important, if not the most important on the committee schedule.

Perhaps of significance was a speech by Republican Gov. William S. Boardley prepared for welcoming the lawmakers.

The governor, himself a large scale farmer, recommended that the present farm program be retained "as a foundation for a better one — maintaining the 90 per cent of parity."

"Always keep your head in the direction of the firing."

And he added, he has a third one in reserve to keep his pleasant happy life in perspective:

"One wrong break can ruin it all."

Sunday School Lesson

Gospel's Life-Giving Power
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Here and there in the New Testament, in many places in fact, there are verses or passages that stand out superbly. They offer the concentrated expression of a great fact, a great experience, an exhortation to righteousness, and Christian living, or an inspirational incentive of encouragement and uplifting power.

Such a verse is John 3:16, with its assertion of God's love for the world, and the gift of His Son. Many passages, especially in Paul's Epistles, are deeply moving in their exhortations. One, where Paul tells how strength can be made perfect in weakness (II Corinthians 12:9) is particularly encouraging for those who are well aware of their weakness, but who lack Paul's inherent strength. Though Paul makes it plain that his strength was more God-given and God-inspired than any natural endowment.

But here I am concerned chiefly with one brief verse in which is expressed all the reality and power of the Gospel experience, the fact of what belief in Christ and the acceptance of His message of salvation can do for man. It is II Corinthians 5:17: "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold all the things are become new."

A marginal translation makes this even stronger. It says, "If any man be in Christ, there is a new creation." It is not only the man who is changed, but he is in a new world. It is a new world in his knowledge of God. It is a new world in his love of truth, and especially a new world in his outlook on life, and in his attitude toward his fellowmen. It is what the Apostle John, formerly the man of intense ambition to be ahead of his fellow disciples (see Matthew 20:20-24), had in mind when he wrote in I John 3:14, "We know that we have passed from earth unto life, because we love the brethren." It is what observers of Jesus said (Mark 2:12): "We never saw it on this fashion."

What does it mean to be "in Christ"? Scholars say it is as if it referred to the place in which one lives. Christ is the environment of the new man in precisely that sense. "If ye love Me," said Jesus, "Keep My commandments." To live in Christ is to seek the guidance of His Spirit and follow His example.

Two things impress me strongly about the verse. One is the limitless nature of the experience. It is not limited to the few, or favored, but it is for "any man." That is borne out in the experience of all sorts of men, even of great sinners, who have found the new life.

And the other thing is the clear, effective expression of the nature and meaning of salvation. Too often, salvation is made a matter of safety and redemption in some experience beyond this life, a being saved from hell, or some future disaster, without much reference to moral and spiritual reality.

I do not discuss the matter of death-bed repentance, or some last-minute event that may assure future salvation. But here the implication and meaning are plain. Salvation is a matter of new life. In Christ. It is a moral and spiritual experience of regeneration. What lies beyond this earthly life may be left to God; but God's will and God's provision in Christ and the Gospel is that here and now for each of us there may be a new life and a new creation.

Russia Plan for Trieste Doomed

By RICHARD WITKIN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — The United Nations Security Council meets tomorrow to consider the Trieste dispute with Russia's demand that the area be internationalized apparently doomed from the start.

All four nations immediately involved in the quarrel — the United States, Britain, Italy and Yugoslavia — seemed agreed on one thing: The Italian peace treaty clause providing for an international regime run by a council-named governor has been outdated.

Russia stepped into the dangerous controversy Monday with a protest against the Anglo-American decision to hand over Zone A to Italy. It followed up yesterday with a demand that the council meet to name a governor and to set up the treaty-projected government of the free territory of Trieste.

When the Pilgrims first heard the rasp of cicadas, they thought it resembled the sounds when they said "Pharaoh" and it reminded them of the locust plagues of Egypt which they had read about in the Bible.

night, October 18, between Charlie English and Clifford Carmichael, sponsored by the Junior Usher Board at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

The American Legion Post No. 427 will sponsor a dance Saturday night, October 17, with music by Ulysses Brown and his Castle Play House band. Tickets will be on sale at the usual places with advance tickets for $1.00 and $1.25 at the door.
